HONOLULU, MARCH 8, 1887.

Business during the week has resumed its normal condition—very little doing. Several parcels of real estate were disposed of at auction. Saturday Mr. Levey held a sale to foreclose a mortgage given by Conchee & Ahung. The property embraced a lease of land, with rice mill thereon, situated as Koolau, together with working oxen, etc., which was knocked down to Hyman Bros. for $2,000. A fourth interest in the Waiafor $2,000. A fourth interest in the Waiahole rice plantation was sold to Sam Hou for $25, and the lesse of the property directly opposite Queen Emma's late residence, Nunann street, was knocked down to Lum Ka Wah for $275. Yesterday the same gentleman disposed of two taro patches, Palama, belonging to the Reformatory School to Rev.

Writ of Mandamus.

On Friday, the Clerk of the Supreme Court filed the following petition for a writ of mandamus and the Chief Justice's order thereupon: Before A. F. Judd, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Kingdom, Honolulu, March 4, 1887. Petition for writ of mandamus. Between Nakamura Munaof mandamus. Between Ragamura Muna-taro, a Japanese subject, resident at Kukui-haele, Hamakua, Hawaii, petitioner, and A. W. Kaalilio, Assistant Judge of the District Court of Hamakua, Hawaii, defendant. The above-named petitioner, under his oath, says as follows 1 .- I hat on the 10th day of February, 1887, the above-named petitioner, by his counsel, Keigoro Katsura, attorney at law, has sued out from the above named defendant, by depositing three dollars ($3) costs, a summons against one W. H. Purvis, resident at Kukuihaele, Hamakua, Hawaii, the master of the said petitioner under a written labor contract, to cancel it on the ground of breach of said contract or otherwise; also, praying to let the said defendant, said W. H. Purvis, pay the cos s, damages and expenses, as the nature of the suit may require.

2.—The above-named defendant did summon up both parties aforesaid, on the fixed time—that is, on the 14th of February, 1887, but did decline, refuse, or decide not, to try the case altogether, on grounds unknown to the petitioner, or on no sound ground, and forfeited the costs aforesaid.

Wherefore, the petitioner prays the honorable Court to issue a writ of mandamus against the above-named defendant, to show cause why said trial shall not be had, and order him to pay all the costs and expenses of these proceedings in his failure.

Nakamura Munataro, petitioner, by his counsel, Keigoro Katsura, attorney at law.

Let a writ issue, commanding respondent to do the thing required of him, or show cause why he should not do so, within ten days after service hereof. A. F. Ju dd., Chief Justice Supreme Court. Honolulu, March 4, 1887.

The Copyright Case.

The copyright case of Thos. G. Thrum vs. the Pacific Commercial Advertiser and B. J. Creighton, for alleged infringement of copyright, has been before the equity divi-sion of the Supreme Court since Jan. 17th, and a final hearing was had on the 3d inst., at which his Honor Judge Preston dismissed the case, owing to the failure of the plaintiff to prove statutory publication of notice of the granting to him of the copyright. It the granting to him of the copyright. It seems the notice was published in the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, December, 1879, and January, 1880, for two months, and only received eight publications, whereas there should have been nine, according to the law. A. C. Smith and L. A. Thurston for plaintiff, and F. M. Hatch, Whiting and Creighton for defendants.

On Thursday Mr. Thomas G. Thru m, the plaintiff in the above-named cause, petitioned the Court for a reopening of the case on its merits, "on the grounds that the plaintiff has discovered that publication was duly made in the "AWAHAN GAZETTE newspaper for 1879 and "od, in all of the issues of said paper issue. Juring the two calendar months succeeding the issuance of said cer tificate of copyright, viz.: December 3, 10, 17, 24, 31, 1879, and January 7, 14, 21, 28, 1880, making nine times in all. That owing to the lapse of time since the said publication of said notice, the plaintiff had forgotten and did not know that said publication of and did not know that said publication of said notice in said HAWAHAN GAZETTE had been made as above mentioned until after trial on the 2d inst. A day for hearing on this motion will be agreed upon by counsel, and fixed by the Court."

The Army.

At about 2 class this morning, while several native clubs were singing at the Palace, an alarm was given and the guards turned out. Amid great excitement and noise, a drunken soldier was captured in the bushes, and put in the dark room. When quiet was restored, singing was resumed, and kept up until daylight.—Bulletin.

EDITOR GAZETTE: I see by the above that the regular army has had its semi-annual scare at the Palace. Sometimes it is a billy-goat or sheep—I don't mean billy-sheep—and sometimes its a firecracker. It don't matter much what the cause is, but the panic is bound to take place all the same at intervals of six months on the average. This time it was a soldier—not of an invading force, but presumably of the guards. I was not aware before that the regular army contained any soldiers, though aware that it mustered a lot of officers; but now I am assured. Well, this soldier was not attacking the Palace, but he was too full of spirit, or was in too good spirits, or too good spirits were in him, or, in other words, he was much too spirited a soldier to come under the "Regulations of the Army and Navy," and so had to be captured and put into a dark

Too much praise cannot be awarded to the brave officers of the regular army who so successfully effected this movement, when we consider the intense darkness of the night, which shrouded in impenetrable gloom the irregular and clandestine movements of the spirited soldier. The "great excitement and noise" which attended the capture, the fact that the officers had to face the music, instead of being able to call out some soldiers to do it for them, and the further circum-stance that the unfortunate soldier, whose spirit had unfitted him for the ranks, was actually lurking in the bushes—in ambush, as it were—a most dangerous strategic posi-tion from the stand-point of the attacking

I feel considerable sympathy for the captive, but he deserves punishment all the same. I understand that a "rule and regulation for the better guidance of the forces, in time of peace or war," is shortly to be issued and proclaimed by the Chief of Staff, and approved by His Majesty, to the effect that any person, or animal, or inanimate object—such as a firecracker—who shall cause a scare at the Palace, shall be confiscated, without benefit of the clergy. This is as it should be, and I fully indorse it. The army must be protected, at all hazards, from the company desconding the protected of the clergy. becoming demoralized by these frequent and injurious panies.

Another "rule and regulation for the better guidance of the forces in time of peace or war," will shortly be acted upon, and the sooner the better, and that is that all bushes within the Palace precincts shall be regarded as illegal, and all trees in the same limits, not trimmed up into the similitude of a royal palace, shall be regarded as a mis-demeanor, and be liable to be cut down and sold as firewood, for the benefit of the privy purse. High PRIVATE.

The Japanese Acrobats.

On Tuesday evening last the Oura Company of Japanese Acrobats gave its initial entertainment to one of the largest houses which has ever congregated at the Opera House, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. The previous high encomnims of this company were fully maintained on this appearance before a Honolulu audience. The opening piece was a tumbling act by two small boys (7 and 8 years old) and was really wonderful to behold—the various positions assumed by the lads would lead one to suppose that they were composed of India rubber, so supple were they in their movements. The cask trick was cleverly constant by Owen the belinging by Mark. the weather. The previous high encomnims executed by Ogawa; the balancing by Mashhichi won the applause of the audience; the ladder trick by Dankichi, was a feat seldom witnessed here or elsewhere—the ladder is some twenty feet in height, supported by the shoulder by one side only, and a small boy climbs up and after performing various evolutions, kicks away one side and all the rungs, leaving only apparently a smooth pole on which he slides down and then climbs up with the callity of a makey, setting on the with the agility of a mokey, setting on the top, and swinging out in a horizontal posi-tion, meanwhile Donkichi, who holds the ladder, thrums a banjo; the top spinning was well executed by Ogawa; the jar trick was something wonderful, being very heavy and capable of holding a small boy inside, which Donkichi balances on his feet, while lying on his back, the boy coming out while sus-pended, standing on it and other tricks and afterwards crawling into the jar before the trick is ended. The umbrella trick by Ginzo (a boy of nine years) was dexterously done, as was also the ball trick by the same lad; the fountain trick by Masahici, excited the admiration of the audience. The last act was the double ladder trick by Donkichi and two small boys—the ladder was in the shape of a huge letter T with two small ladders pendent from each end of the upper portion and the whole balanced on the shoulder of the performer, while the two boys mounted up and performed various evolutions on the top and sides of the ladders. It is needless to say that the various acts were received with the greatest applause, and was witnessed with the utmost attention throughout, the audience retiring highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

On Thursday evening, notwithstanding the stormy weather a good audience greeted the company. A new programme of events was presented, the most novel of which was the tub trick. This consisted of a shallow tub, about fifteen inches in depth a diameter of eight feet, which Donkichi handled with ease, afterwards introducing two boys, one ease, afterwards introducing two boys, one of whom remained inside while the other crawled up and on to the top outside, standing on his head and other feets, both lads leaving the tub successfully; the wire dance by Ogawa was cleverly executed; the pyramid trick by Masazo (eight years old) was neatly done—this consisted of piling up a number of small boxes in the form of a pyramid and then placing himself on his head on the top, and afterwards knocking away the blocks singly before regaining his feet—the lad was londly applanded. The single ladder trick concluded the entertainment.

On Saturday afternoon, the company gave a matinee, which drew forth a large andi-ence, principally ladies and children, to witness their acrobatic feats.

On Saturday evening, a crowded house greeted the company, and the entertainment was of the same high character, with a change of programme. It is understood the company will continue to exhibit during the present week, and will probably sail for the Coast on the steamer Australia on Wednesday, March 16th.

The Friend.

The Friend for March details the mission of Mr. Booth, and shows how great a success the temperance lecturer made. This is followed by an article headed "Differences," which quotes the eminent German divine, which quotes the eminent German divine, Dr. Neander, against the Anglican Church Chronicle. The Rev. E. C. Oggel's sermon on the "Mountain Eruption and Lava Flow" is printed, giving an opportunity for those who did not hear that eloquent gentleman to read the lessons he drew from that great event. A kindly notice of the late Mrs. Thomas A. Thrum appears, and the regular monthly record of events will be found of value by all classes of readers. The continuation of Dr. Wetmore's lecture on Micronesia is given, and is of great interest. It would is given, and is of great interest. It would be satisfactory to have the lecture in its entirety, as it contains much valuable information relative to little known places in this ocean. The Y. M. C. A. section is well represented, but the educational section is still marked by absence. For this we are sorry, as the educational section was doing some real practical good.

O Luso Hawaiiano.

The last number issued of the Portuguese O Luso Harcaitano is about the best and certainly the largest ever published by that paper, which is steadily improving and augmenting in authority and popularity. It contains this time a two-page supplement, contains this time a two-page supplement, with very interesting reading, both prose and poetry, amongst which is an original popular story from Madeira. The course of special Hawatian geography being devoted to fionolula, the text is illustrated by two cuts, one representing the town in 1820, and the other being the plan of the modern capital. Abundant news, both local and from Portugal, Madeira and Azores, is well calculated to interest the readers to which is also added. interest the readers, to which is also added, in English and Portuguese, the constitution of in English and Portuguese, the constitution of the new society, the Portuguese Ladies' Charitable Association, for which the desti-tute of that nationality are indebted to the untiring and devoted efforts of Mrs. M. Canavarro. The constitution is very well framed, and greatly to the credit of its pro-moter, the wife of the Portuguese Consul-Among the quantity of useful information published by the Luso is noticeable the fact that in Kohala alone during the year 1886 there were fifty-six births and ten marriages and only six deaths in the Portuguese colony, and that in the bank of this town is depos-ited over $20,000 by Portuguese, which tallies well for their reproductiveness and thrift.

The Anglican Church Chronicle.

This magazine contains the usual amount of editorial matter. Lent is treated of, and the editor gives a very sensible view of the subject. He says: "In this practical age, ostentation goes for just what it is worth, and the more outward observance people adopt, the more the world expects from them. For instance, if a person is perform-For instance, if a person is performing an abstinence, people do not give much credit to him, if he put the savings in the bank, neither do we think he will be numbered among those who will be openly rewarded. Our idea of the season of Lent is simply this: Being but human, and therefore prone to err, we are all liable to get out of the right track in the course of twelve months. Now is the time to pull ourselves together for a new spurt, a new spring, which ought to make us leap far into the new

A pleasant little article upon the Cathedral choir follows. The Cathedral Building Fund is reported to be a success. Mr. Mackintosh reports that the boxes for February yielded $240, making a total of $480 for the first two months of the year. On the strength of this, Mr. Lishman has commenced work, and already the first course of menced work, and already the first course of masonry is in place.

The church notes, both at home and sbroad, are full and interesting, and contain general information of church work put together in a newsy way. The educational section gives the second paper upon teach-ing English to Hawaiians. The advice is practical and sound, and the editor gives a foot-note which should be carefully read and considered by all the young teachers in the Government schools. "Our Pilgrimage" concludes an interesting number. grims have reached London, and next month we may expect an account of the "Modern Babylon, the centre of the civilized world."

Another Old Land Mark Gone

Another old land mark in Honolulu has disappeared from the public gaze—the Snow building on Merchant street. In its day it was regarded as one of the finest and most substantial buildings to be found here or elsewhere, and was erected by the late Capt. B. F. Snow, in 1844, for his place of business, and which he continued to occupy until his failing health compelled him to relinquish active pursuits. The walls of this building were composed of huge blocks of coral, and the roof was covered with slate, and when pulled down the whole structure was found to be in a good state of preservation, and capable of enduring the storms for many years to come, but this strong old building has to give way to the march of improvement, and its place will be supplied with a modern structure, in keeping with the de mands of the times. The work of demoli-tion set in promptly on Tuesday morning, and soon the first section of what will be known as the "McInerny Block" will rear its front to the public gaze. Mr. Thomas has the work in hand.

A Live Officer. EDITOR GAZETTE: Lahaina is cursed with thirty-four (by actual count) liquor manufactories—gin, swipes, gambling and opium dens. They defy law, defraud the revenues, and corrupt the morals of the community. To support these dens of vice, makes abou one-third of our population drunkards, gamblers and opium-users. Small boys and women sometimes take to these vices. Two police officers have been seen drunk at the same time. The plantation pays out to its laborers every Saturday evening about $500 cash. These dens make ready during the week to scoop in as much of this money as possible. This makes Saturday nights and Sundays hideous with drunken carousals. Unfortunately, our Deputy Sheriff has been seriously sick and a long time absent. Our obliging Governor granted us a police officer, the plantation paying his salary. He has made some arrests of parties in the liquor and opium business, and conviction fol-lowed. It seemed that but little headway could be made, however. We were going from bad to worse.

A few days ago Mr. Thomas Evans came here, in the capacity of Deputy Sheriff. Although a stranger to us, his great activity and the interest he took in the performance of his duties, caused our hopes to brighten at once. About his first official act was to at once. About his first official act was to stop gambling by pool-playing. This place was frequented mostly by foreigners, and has been running for a long time. Last Friday and Saturday he confiscated (poured out) three or four barrels of poison, called swipes. This heroic act caused us to have one of the most quiet and orderly Sundays we have known in Lahaina during a residence of nearly five years. dence of nearly five years.
On Saturday night Mr. Evans and another

On Saturday night Mr. Evans and another officer made a raid on a notorious Chinese liquor, gambling and opium den. A large number of Chinamen were in the house, and in trying to hold them, his pistol was accidentally discharged, and unfortunately shot a Chinaman. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was: "That the shooting was accidentally done by the officer while in the discharge of his duties." All good citizens very much regret that the law requires that he must go to jail, until an opportunity offered for him to go to Honolulu, as there was no person here authorized to admit him to bail. Harsh treatment, indeed, and poor to bail. Harsh treatment, indeed, and poor encouragement to an officer honestly trying to do his duty. Our law-makers should that all citizens have the same rights and privileges, no matter on which island they reside. We feel very much encouraged, and believe that this brave and active officer will soon close up these dens of vice, Lahaina be rid of this deplorable state of things, and be classed as a law-abiding town.
